

Requesting your free credit reports

Make a plan for requesting your free credit reports once every 12 months.

! CONSUMER ALERT

In addition to your free annual credit report, you also can now request your free credit reports weekly from each of the nationwide credit reporting agencies through April 20, 2022 at <https://www.AnualCreditReport.com>. You can also get six free credit reports every twelve months from Equifax through December 31, 2026.

Your credit report can be used for more than just a loan approval. That's why it's important to look at your reports each year to make sure your information is correct.

You should request your credit report from all three nationwide credit reporting companies—Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion—since each report can have different information in it. What to do

- Pick a method to order your credit reports. You can get them online, by phone, or by mail. If you get your reports online, be sure you're accessing them from a safe and secure device and location. Be very cautious doing this on public computers, since you're accessing sensitive personal information and you want to keep it safe.
- Be ready to answer some security questions if you request your report online or by phone. You'll be asked questions that are meant to be hard for anyone but you. If you can't answer, you'll have to request the report by mail. Questions might be:
 - How much is your monthly mortgage or car payment?
 - Which bank is your auto loan from?
- Decide when you'll order each report. Consider getting a report from a different credit reporting company every four months, as a way to monitor your credit for free.

A step further

Review your credit reports carefully. They'll probably be similar, but there may be differences between them, and that's okay. The most important thing is to make sure that the information listed about you is accurate. Use the "Reviewing your credit reports" tool to check your credit reports for any mistakes.

Pick a strategy for Requesting your free credit reports

1. Pick when you'll request your credit reports using the strategy that works best for you.
2. Write down when you'll request them from each company, Experian, Equifax, and TransUnion. You can get a free report from each company once every 12 months.
3. Create a reminder on your calendar or phone to help you follow through.

Strategies for requesting your credit reports

REQUEST ON THREE SEPARATE DATES

Check your reports on three different dates throughout the year. Staggering them can help you see if anything is changing throughout the year or if any fraud has occurred.

I will request my reports on these three separate dates:

DATE COMPANY

	Equifax
	Experian
	TransUnion

REQUEST ON A SINGLE DATE

Choose a single date that's easy to remember, like a birthday or holiday, to request all three of your reports at once. This is good if you're buying something big soon, that requires new credit, so you can correct errors right away.

I will request a report from all three companies on this day:

DATE COMPANY

	Equifax, Experian, TransUnion
