Corrected Information Regarding College Credit Card Agreements .....67

1. Purpose

The Credit CARD Act requires the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“CFPB”) to submit to Congress, and to make available to the public, an annual report that lists information submitted to the Bureau concerning agreements between credit card issuers and institutions of higher education or certain affiliated organizations.<sup>a</sup> Affiliated organizations include fraternities, sororities, alumni associations, or foundations affiliated with or related to an institution of higher education. As this report demonstrates, the majority of college credit card agreements are between issuers and affiliated organizations.

This is the third annual report pursuant to this provision of the Credit CARD Act. The first two reports were submitted by the Federal Reserve Board. Pursuant to Title X of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010, responsibility for collecting and submitting to Congress annual reports regarding college credit card agreements transferred from the Federal Reserve Board to the CFPB on July 21, 2011.

<sup>a</sup> The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (the “CFPB”) submits this report in accordance with Section 305 of the Credit Card Accountability Responsibility and Disclosure Act of 2009 (the “Credit CARD Act”), Pub. L. No. 111–24, 123 Stat. 1734 (2009). Section 305(a).

2. Introduction

Credit card issuers are required<sup>b</sup> to submit to the CFPB each year the terms and conditions of any college credit card agreement that was in effect at any time during the preceding calendar year between the issuer and an institution of higher education, an alumni organization, or a foundation affiliated with an institution of higher education (an “affiliated organization”).<sup>c</sup> Issuers are also required to submit the following information with respect to each agreement: (1) the number of credit card accounts covered by the agreement (“college credit card accounts”) that were open at year-end (regardless of when the account was opened); (2) the amount of payments made by the issuer to the institution or organization during the year;<sup>d</sup> (3) the number of new college credit card accounts covered by the agreement that were opened during the year; and 4) any Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the issuer and institution or affiliated organization that directly or indirectly relates to any aspect of the agreement.

<sup>b</sup> See Section 305 of the Credit CARD Act and the CFPB’s implementing regulations, which were promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board and restated by the Bureau in December 2011, 12 C.F.R. § 1026.57(d).

<sup>c</sup> In some cases, issuers submitted to the Bureau agreements with other types of organizations, such as fraternities, sororities, and professional or trade organizations that relate to the issuance of credit cards to college students. Such agreements are included in this report and categorized as agreements with “other organizations.”

<sup>d</sup> All payments included in this report are rounded to the nearest dollar.

Issuers were required to make their third annual submission by April 30, 2012. This submission comprised college credit card agreements to which the issuer was a party during 2011 and information regarding payments and accounts as of December 31, 2011.

This report is based on the information and agreements submitted to the CFPB by credit card issuers. Because some agreements address the provision of other financial products (such as deposit accounts) as well as credit cards, payments made by issuers under these agreements may not relate solely to credit card accounts. In addition, some or all of the accounts opened pursuant to these agreements may have been opened by individuals who are not students (such as alumni, faculty, and staff of an institution of higher education). Furthermore, card issuers' submissions do not include information regarding credit card accounts opened by students independent of a college credit card agreement (such as when a student responds to an offer made to the general public). The CFPB also notes that, because issuers were required to submit all college credit card agreements to which they were a party at any time during 2011, issuers' submissions may include agreements that terminated in 2011 or 2012 and therefore are no longer in effect.

Information included in this report also is available on the Bureau's public website at www.consumerfinance.gov.

3. Overview of College Card Agreements

As presented in Table 1, the CFPB received 798 college credit card agreements from 21 credit card issuers for 2011. Only the number of issuers increased from 2009 to 2011. The number of agreements, total number of college card accounts open at year-end, amount of payments by issuers, and number of new college credit card accounts opened during the year all declined over this period.

3.1 Credit Card Issuers

Twenty-one issuers submitted agreements for 2011, a decrease of 1 issuer from 2010. First National Bank of Omaha terminated its 2 agreements in 2010, which were with Creighton University and Wayne State College.

As in 2009 and 2010, FIA Card Services, N.A. (“FIA”), a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation, submitted the most agreements. FIA submitted 633 agreements, which was nearly 80% of all agreements submitted in 2011. US Bank, N.A. (“US Bank”) and Capital One,

N.A. (“Capital One”) submitted the second and third most, respectively, with 51 and 31 agreements. Chase Bank USA, N.A. (“Chase”), which in 2009 and 2010 had the second highest number of agreements, now ranks fifth, with 17 agreements.

3.2 College Card Agreements

As presented in Table 3, issuers submitted 798 college card agreements for 2011, a decrease of 207 agreements—approximately 21 percent—relative to 2010.

3.2.1 New Agreements in 2011

While the total number of college card agreements declined from 2010 to 2011, issuers added 26 new agreements in 2011. Capital One entered into 22 new agreements in 2011, more than doubling its 2010 total number of college card agreements.

3.2.2 Agreements Terminated in 2010

As Table 3 also shows, 207, or approximately 23 percent, of the 1,005 college card agreements in effect during 2010 were terminated at or before year-end 2010. A complete list of these agreements is included in Appendix B of this report. The issuer with the largest number of agreements terminated was FIA, with 216, or approximately 25 percent of FIA’s total agreements in 2010, terminated. FIA’s total accounted for 93% of all agreements terminated in 2010.

3.2.3 Terminated in 2011

As shown in Table 4, 224 of the agreements in effect during 2011 were terminated before January 1, 2012.<sup>e</sup> The issuer with the largest number of terminated agreements in 2011 was FIA, with 221. Given that the number of terminated agreements continues to strongly outpace the number of new agreements being created, we expect the total number of agreements in effect in 2012 to continue to decline.

Approximately 18 percent were between a credit card issuer and other organization affiliated with an institution of higher education, just fewer than 7 percent of agreements in effect were between issuers and foundations, and less than 1 percent of agreements were between an issuer and multiple organizations.<sup>f</sup>

3.4 Open College Credit Card Accounts

As presented in Table 6, the total number of open college credit card accounts at year-end declined from 2009 to 2011 by approximately 26 percent. While some issuers had increased numbers of open accounts at year-end 2011, these increases were offset by larger declines experienced by other issuers.

3.4.1 Largest Numbers of Open Accounts at Year-End

Table 7 presents the 10 college card agreements with the largest number of open accounts as of December 31, 2011. These 10 agreements represent approximately 20 percent of all open college credit card accounts as of December 31, 2011.

The 7 agreements with the largest number of open accounts at year end 2011 (all issued by FIA) were also the top 7 in 2010. Banco Popular de Puerto Rico's agreement with the University of Puerto Rico moved from having the eighth most open accounts in 2010 to the fourteenth most open accounts as of year-end 2011. As a result, FIA is now the only issuer with agreements among the top 10 largest number of open accounts as of year-end 2011.

<sup>g</sup> Golden Key International Honour Society (“Golden Key”) describes itself as “an academic honor society which recognizes and encourages scholastic achievement and excellence among college and university students from all academic disciplines” (see www.goldenkey.org/GKIHS/GoldenKeyInDepth/WhatisGoldenKey). Golden Key’s agreement with FIA provides for the issuance of credit cards to college students.

3.4.4 New College Credit Card Accounts

As presented in Table 10, the total number of new college credit card accounts opened by all issuers declined by approximately 23 percent. While some issuers opened a greater number of new accounts in 2011 than 2010, more issuers experienced declines.

4. Detailed Information About College Credit Card Agreements

Pursuant to Section 305 of the Credit CARD Act, Appendix A to this report lists the information submitted to the CFPB regarding the payments made and accounts opened under college credit card agreements. The complete text of each agreement submitted to the CFPB is available on the Bureau’s public website at www.consumerfinance.gov.

Appendix A lists the following information about each college credit card agreement: (1) the name of the institution or organization; (2) the type of institution or organization;<sup>h</sup> (3) the city and state where the institution or organization is located; (4) the name of the issuer; (5)

<sup>h</sup> This report presents information regarding four categories of institutions or organizations. “University” refers to an institution of higher education, as defined in sections 101 and 102 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. § 1001 and 1002). “Alumni association” refers to an alumni organization affiliated with an institution of higher education. “Foundation” refers to a foundation affiliated with an institution of higher education. In some cases, issuers submitted to the CFPB agreements with other types of organizations, such as fraternities, sororities, and professional or trade associations that relate to the issuance of credit cards to college students. “Other” refers to such agreements with other types of organizations.

whether the agreement has been amended or is new;<sup>i</sup> (6) whether the agreement was still in effect on January 1, 2012; (7) the total number of open accounts under the agreement as of December 31, 2011; (8) the amount of payments made by the issuer to the institution or organization pursuant to the agreement during 2011; and (9) the number of new accounts opened pursuant to the agreement during 2011.

Appendix B to this report lists college credit card agreements that were in effect at some time during 2010 but were terminated by year-end 2010. (Agreements terminated in 2011 are included in Appendix A. These agreements are marked as no longer in effect on January 1, 2012.)

In 2012, the CFPB received corrected information from INTRUST Bank, Compass Bank, and Carolina Trust Federal Credit Union. INTRUST corrected the number of accounts open as of year-end 2010 and 2009 for each of their agreements. Compass Bank corrected the amount paid in 2010 to the affiliated institution for both of its agreements. Carolina Trust Federal Credit Union entered into a new college card agreement in the 2010 that was not included in the most recent report, but has been added here. Corrected information for 2009 and 2010 is included in Appendix C to this report. All comparisons to 2009 and 2010 in this report reflect these corrections.

<sup>i</sup> This report categorizes each agreement as “same,” “amended,” or “new.” “Same” refers to an agreement that was in effect during 2010, the terms of which were not amended or modified during 2011. “Amended” refers to an agreement that was in effect during 2010, the terms of which were amended or modified during 2011. “New” refers to an agreement that was not in effect prior to 2011.
